

National Institutes of Health
National Cancer Institute
Bethesda, Maryland 20892

APR 12 2005

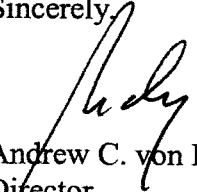

Earnest G. Hope, M.D., Ph.D.
Cellular Cancer Treatment Centre
Moenckebergstrasse 5
D – 20095 Hamburg
GERMANY

Dear Dr. Hope:

Dr. John Lifland forwarded the information on the Cellular Cancer Treatment Centre in Hamburg, Germany. As you may know, the National Cancer Institute (NCI) has considerable expertise in immunotherapy of cancer, in general, and in adoptive therapy, in particular. I recommend looking into the studies done at the NCI Surgery Branch by Dr. Steven Rosenberg and his group. Although there have been successes in melanoma, Dr. Rosenberg also works on solid tumors.

I wish you all the best as we work together as an international oncology community to eliminate the global burden of cancer.

Sincerely,

Andrew C. von Eschenbach, M.D.
Director
National Cancer Institute